Eventing In Focus:

Eventing in Focus, 1976 Ride Big John Haime, 2021-06-11 An easy to implement framework proven to grow rider confidence tested by the world's leading equestrian athletes Without confidence achievement in competition is unattainable When confidence is lacking in any sport equestrian included chances are your career will be short Renowned performance coach John Haime has written the book to counter this challenge providing the mental tools riders need to be better under pressure of all kinds and consistently succeed Equestrian sport is a partnership there's an equine athlete and there's a human athlete Haime notes that often there is an investment in world class training for one partner the horse but not the other the human This compromises the potential effectiveness of the horse and rider team It just makes sense for equestrians to develop their own skills mental and physical and bring more to the partnership Haime explains that there is what he believes is a crisis of confidence in modern equestrian sport This has a variety of causes including a lack of fundamental mental emotional structure and development the presence and prominence of technology in the rider's life and the constant comparisons inherent in social media and a technically connected existence Addressing this crisis enables equestrians of all ages and abilities to communicate better with their horses both in day to day interactions and competition absorb more in valuable learning situations such as lessons and clinics and perform their best when the stakes are high as when heading into the jump off or approaching the last fence on the cross country course Haime invites readers to dive into three clear and informative areas of exploration The Confidence Building Blocks Firm up the fundamentals The Confidence Builders Systems and tips to help you build confidence The Confidence Threats An inside look at what to watch out for in riding and in competition Throughout those who have reached the highest levels on horseback in a number of disciplines share their stories including Michael Jung Beezie Madden McLain Ward Laura Tomlinson Harry Meade Oliver Townend Mattias Tromp Casey Deary Beth Underhill Fred Mannix Jared Zenni Jonathon Millar and Kelly Soleau Millar These Olympians champions and medalists explain what they do in the saddle and how their techniques for performing under world class pressure might help other riders develop a similar kind of confidence Perhaps even more valuable are the struggles these top competitors share giving readers the rare opportunity to see how even the best of the best are human too The way riders develop confidence in their equestrian lives is transferable to everything they do a confident rider can be a confident business person confident worker confident spouse confident parent and confident friend In this way Ride Big instills a skill of worth and promise that extends far beyond the show ring Training for equestrian performance Jane Williams, David Evans, 2023-11-27 Training for equestrian performance is an essential guide for the modern equestrian competitor who wants to optimise their own and their horse's potential in training and competition or for the equine sports science student wanting to understand the science of equestrian training Leading equestrian researchers and performance analysis experts bring together the fundamental scientific principles which underpin competition preparation for the horse and rider These include exercise physiology psychology conformation biomechanics and feeding for performance The book explores the principles of training and alternative training methods and how these principles translate to management of the equine athlete to extend careers and prevent injury occurring Suggestions for how to successfully develop training strategies and plans matched to short and long term training and competition goals are provided Developments in performance analysis techniques and equipment for the horse and rider independently and as a partnership are reviewed This enables the reader to select techniques and devise training regimes which can help them achieve their own competitive goals The book concludes by applying science to the practical requirements of a range of equestrian disciplines giving practical advice and explanations of how to use science and technology to improve fitness prevent injury and to achieve competition success Horse owners students veterinarians coaches and many other participants in equestrian sports will find new knowledge and perspectives to consider Training for equestrian performance will become a must have training companion for the modern equestrian who wants to leave nothing to chance in their competition preparation

Toronto's Woodbine Racetrack is a touchstone memory for horse lovers everywhere. Yet while Secretariat will forever be remembered, one man who was pivotal to the great horse's success has been all but forgotten until now. In The Horse God Built, bestselling equestrian writer Lawrence Scanlan has written a tribute to an exceptional man that is also a backroads journey through a corner of the racing world seldom visited. As Secretariat's groom Edward Shorty Sweat had far more contact with the horse than anyone and no one understood him better. Travelling through the American South hanging about the tracks and the barns of thoroughbred racing, Scanlan reveals a skilled and much-loved black man of the old South who had a consuming fatherly passion and dedication to his horse. We see the racing world through the eyes of a man who died in poverty, his standing room only funeral packed with friends and family yet unattended by the other principals in Secretariat's life. We hear colourful backstretch anecdotes about Eddie and Secretariat from coworkers, jockeys, trainers, and owners, all contributing not just to one man's story but to a portrait of a powerful bond between human and horse. Bacon's Media Calendar Directory, 1996
