Frontman A Telethon:

The Frontman Peter Sinclair, 1992      Unreel Diana Wichtel, 2024-11-26 Born to a Polish Holocaust survivor father and a 1950s Kiwi tradwife too busy to police her viewing Diana Wichtel cut her teeth on the Golden Age of television But in the 1960s things fell apart Diana's fractured family left Canada and blew in to New Zealand just missing the Beatles and minus a father Diana watched television being born again half a world away and twenty years later walked into the smoky clacking offices of the Listener where she became the country's foremost television critic loved and loathed with the hate mail in seething capital letters to prove it Meanwhile television's sometimes pale imitation her real life was beginning to unreel This is a sharply funny wise and profound memoir of growing up and becoming a writer of parents and children early marriage and divorce finding love again and of the box we gathered around in our living rooms that changed the world This whipcrack of a book is such good company that my eyes hurt from smiling as I read it Was I smiling or was it something else Here we are in our audacity our absurdity our banality and our hope Stumbling towards something now largely past Linear TV life Diana Wichtel herself none of us are spared but most of us are forgiven This has always been Wichtel's brilliance Her sharp funny empathy She'd be the perfect funeral guest She also has the critic's obsession with delivering for the audience or reader As stunningly displayed in Driving to Treblinka read it her words carry their truths off the page impatient for our attention Gorgeous acerbic illuminating human Unreel is a wonderful read John Campbell A funny wise memoir that's as much about love and loss as it is about telly The prose is brilliant hilarious just right Devastating too when the critic looks clear-eyed at the individual tragedy suffered by her family that is a stain on the conscience of the world This story twines the communal joy of the greatest shows from I Love Lucy to Coro and The Sopranos with the author's realisation of the power the medium has not only to bring us together but to help her face the darkness of the past Diana Wichtel is watching TV but she sees so much more Noelle McCarthy The funniest writer on the planet on the mad sad and profound joys of the idiot box You should binge read this Steve Braunias      The Fabric of Welfare Margaret Tennant, 2007 Throughout history the welfare of the people has been a contested area Is it the responsibility of the state The churches The extended family Organised charities or informal community groups The Fabric of Welfare is about the many points of contact between voluntary welfare and government social services and the complex pattern woven by these different threads The country's welfare history is shaped by its colonial past with the predominantly British influences transmitted by an immigrant society in the nineteenth century by its Maori population with a strong communal ethos by the shaping forces of the welfare state by two world wars and economic depression and by both free market policies and rapid social change in recent years In tracing the interdependence of state and voluntary provision of welfare from 1840 to 2005 Margaret Tennant offers new perspectives on New Zealand social history This is a rigorous analysis but it is also a history illuminated by people The text is illustrated with stories about the people who were moved to save to reform to care to support and the people who needed that essential sustenance From the nun who sees a distraught woman about to throw her child into the sea and sets out to care for foundlings to city missionaries community minded public servants businessmen philanthropists and the entrepreneurial organisers of floral fetes and telethons these accounts tell us much about the history of welfare in all its interconnections
