Scientific Inquiry Cycle: Review

Science helps communities solve problems by applying knowledge and creating things that "solve" with a local focus such as water quality or waste management using science to make or improve solutions can have a positive impact. Understanding the problem fully, including its causes and effects, is the first step in finding an effective solution.

Designing solutions requires considering various conditions, such as budget, time, and safety concerns. Community members have a part in a solution's success. Challenges, setbacks, and the inability to weigh their individual contributions for solutions, creating resources for a cause that they affect in real and ways of use, cannot influence the effectiveness of the solution.

After identifying a solution, determining how it works, what conditions affected it, and any compromises that have already been and should involve on the way. Communication, strong enough results, and following up on the results of the solution are important steps. The process of how designing science locally encourages responsible decision-making and helps communities thrive.

6A. Mark the best answer for each question.

1. What is the first important step when working on a local problem?
- Designing a solution
 - Ignoring the most important conditions
 - Ignoring safety concerns
 - Understanding the problem fully
2. What does determining conditions in a solution help with?
- Ignoring the conditions of the solution
 - Establishing a solution that is safe and viable
 - Showing how to solve the problem
 - Determining that the solution has no risks
3. Which is an example of a trade-off?
- Finding a solution with no risks
 - Ignoring safety concerns
 - Not taking into account the most important conditions
 - Using unsafe materials
4. Why is compromise important?
- To avoid not being in agreement
 - To make ideas stronger
 - To finish the problem by combining ideas
 - To avoid discussing the problem

6B. Mark if the statement is True (T) or False (F).

1. Science helps communities solve problems by applying knowledge and creating things that "solve" with a local focus such as water quality or waste management using science to make or improve solutions can have a positive impact. Understanding the problem fully, including its causes and effects, is the first step in finding an effective solution.

Answer for each question.

1. Is science a problem fully before designing a solution?

2. Why must this be considered in designing a solution?

3. What might happen when creating a solution that

4. How might science solutions be implemented?

5. Why are trade-offs essential in scientific understanding?
