Genocide In Rwanda:

Genocide in Rwanda Frank Spalding, 2008-08-15 This book is a close look at the genocide that occurred in Rwanda in 1994 It includes background history and the events that led up to the genocide as well as the genocide itself and its after effects

"Leave None to Tell the Story" Alison Liebhafsky Des Forges, Human Rights Watch (Organization), 1999 Law and Order

Justice in Africa Paul Magnarella, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2000 This work describes the United Nations International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda ICTR the first international court created to try persons for genocide and violation the humanitarian law of non international armed conflict The book begins with an explanation of the causes of the 1994 genocide in Rwanda It then discusses the UN Security Council s creation of the ICTR and the Tribunal s organization functioning accomplishments and shortcomings The author explains how the Tribunal has gained custody over suspects who had fled to other countries in Africa Europe and also to the USA The book analyzes the ICTR s first several cases and describes the unique contributions the Tribunal is making to the expansion of humanitarian law In addition the author describes Rwanda s own legal attempts to deal with the trauma of 1994 by passing a new genocide statute and creating special genocide courts He also explains the similarities and differences between the Tribunal for Rwanda and the one created by the UN Security Council to deal with major crimes committed during the break up of former Yugoslavia

Political Governance in Post-Genocide Rwanda Filip Reyntjens, 2013-12-30 Analyses political governance in post genocide Rwanda focusing on the rise of the Rwandan Patriotic Front RPF In the aftermath of the 1994 Rwandan genocide the RPF has employed various means rigged elections elimination of opposition parties and civil society legislation outlawing dissenting opinions and terrorism to consolidate its position as the nation s ruling party Although Rwanda is considered successful for its technocratic governance societal reforms and economic development shows the regime s darker side of human rights abuses social engineering projects information management schemes and retributive justice system

One Hundred Days of Silence Jared Cohen, 2007 In the spring of 1994 eight hundred thousand Rwandan Tutsis and Moderate Hutus were killed in a horrific genocide One Hundred Days of Silence is a scathing look at the challenges of humanitarian intervention the history of U S policy toward the 1994

Rwanda genocide and th Rwanda and Genocide in the Twentieth Century Alain Destexhe,1995-10 In this slim passionately argued volume first published to great acclaim in France and considerably updated during the translation process a deeply involved witness of the massacres takes an unflinching look at recent events in Rwanda and what they can tell us about the nature of genocide Drawing on his experiences in the killing fields Destexhe illustrates how genocide is trivialized by superficial contemporary definitions and by modern media and its compulsion to describe any mass killing as genocide Genocide Destexhe argues is the most evil of all crimes as it is directed at the very heart of what it is to be human Reviewing the three most destructive genocidal campaigns of the twentieth century the Turkish mass murder of Armenians the Nazi Holocaust and the Rwandan cataclysm the book discusses such central issues as culpability and collective responsibility the limits of humanitarian intervention and the complexities of punishing genocidal agents after the fact

The Path to Genocide in Rwanda Omar Shahabudin McDoom,2021-03-11 The shocking characteristics of Rwanda s genocide in 1994 have etched themselves indelibly on the global conscience The Path to Genocide in Rwanda combines extensive original field data with some of the best existing evidence to evaluate the myriad theories behind the genocide and to offer a rigorous and comprehensive explanation of how and why it occurred and why so many Rwandans participated in it Drawing on interviews with over three hundred Rwandans Omar Shahabudin McDoom systematically compares those who participated in the violence against those who did not He contrasts communities that experienced violence early with communities where violence began late as well as communities where violence was limited with communities where it was massive His findings offer new perspectives on some of the most troubling questions concerning the genocide while also providing a broader engagement with key theoretical debates in the study of genocides and ethnic conflict Rwanda Revisited ,2021-12-13 Listen to the podcast with Philip Drew and Bruce Oswald In Rwanda Revisited Genocide Civil War and the Transformation of International Law the contributing authors seek to recount explore and explain the tragedy that was the Rwanda genocide and the nature of the international community s entanglement with it Written by people selected for their personalized knowledge of Rwanda be it as peacekeepers aid workers or members of the ICTR and or scholarship that has been clearly influenced by the genocide this book provides a level of insight detail and first hand knowledge about the genocide and its aftermath that is clearly unique Included amongst the writers are a number of scholars whose research and writings on Rwanda the United Nations and genocide are internationally recognized Contributors are Major ret d Brent Beardsley Professor Jean Bou Professor Jane Boulden Dr Emily Crawford Lieutenant General the Honourable Romeo Dallaire Professor Phillip Drew Professor Mark Drumbl Professor Jeremy Farrall Lieutenant General John Frewen Dr Stacey Henderson Professor Adam Jones Ambassador Colin Keating Professor Robert McLaughlin Linda Melvern Dr Melanie O Brien Professor Bruce Oswald Dr Tamsin Phillipa Paige Professor David J Simon and Professor Andrew Wallis This book was previously published as Special Issue of the Journal of International Peacekeeping Volume 22 2018 Issue 1 4 published April

2020 with updated Introduction Justice on the Grass Dina Temple-Raston, 2005 An award winning author and journalist examines the horrific Rwanda genocide of 1994 and describes how a country picks up the pieces after the extermination of nearly one million of its people of photos On the Path to Genocide Deborah Mayersen, 2014-04-01 Why did the Armenian genocide erupt in Turkey in 1915 only seven years after the Armenian minority achieved civil equality for the first time in the history of the Ottoman Empire How can we explain the Rwandan genocide occurring in 1994 after decades of relative peace and even cooperation between the Hutu majority and the Tutsi minority Addressing the question of how the risk of genocide develops over time On the Path to Genocide contributes to a better understand why genocide occurs when it does It provides a comprehensive and comparative historical analysis of the factors that led to the 1915 Armenian genocide and the 1994 genocide in Rwanda using fresh sources and perspectives that yield new insights into the history of the Armenian and Rwandan peoples Finally it also presents new research into constraints that inhibit genocide and how they can be utilized to attempt the prevention of genocide in the future Localising Memory in Transitional Justice Mina Rauschenbach, Julia Viebach, Stephan Parmentier, 2022-05-30 This collection adds to the critical transitional justice scholarship that calls for transitional justice from below and that makes visible the complex and oftentimes troubled entanglements between justice endeavours locality and memory making Broadening this perspective it explores informal memory practices across various contexts with a focus on their individual and collective dynamics and their intersections reaching also beyond a conceptualisation of memory as mere symbolic reparation and politics of memory It seeks to highlight the hidden unwritten and multifaceted in today s memory boom by focusing on the memorialisation practices of communities activists families and survivors Organising its analytical focal point around the localisation of memory it offers valuable and new insights on how and under what conditions localised memory practices may contribute to recognition and social transformation as well as how they may at best be inclusive or exclusive of dynamic and diverse memories Drawing on inter and multi disciplinary approaches this book brings an in depth and nuanced understanding of local memory practices and the dynamics attached to these in transitional justice contexts It will be of much interest to students and scholars of memory and genocide studies peace and conflict studies transitional justice sociology and anthropology The Order of Genocide Scott Straus, 2013-01-19 The Rwandan genocide has become a touchstone for debates about the causes of mass violence and the responsibilities of the international community Yet a number of key questions about this tragedy remain unanswered How did the violence spread from community to community and so rapidly engulf the nation Why did individuals make decisions that led them to take up machetes against their neighbors And what was the logic that drove the campaign of extermination According to Scott Straus a social scientist and former journalist in East Africa for several years who received a Pulitzer Prize nomination for his reporting for the Houston Chronicle many of the widely held beliefs about the causes and course of genocide in Rwanda are incomplete They focus largely on the actions of the ruling elite or the inaction of the international community Considerably less is known about how and why elite decisions became widespread exterminatory violence Challenging the prevailing wisdom Straus provides substantial new evidence about local patterns of violence using original research including the most comprehensive surveys yet undertaken among convicted perpetrators to assess competing theories about the causes and dynamics of the genocide Current interpretations stress three main causes for the genocide ethnic identity ideology and mass media indoctrination in particular the influence of hate radio Straus s research does not deny the importance of ethnicity but he finds that it operated more as a background condition Instead Straus emphasizes fear and intra ethnic intimidation as the primary drivers of the violence A defensive civil war and the assassination of a president created a feeling of acute insecurity Rwanda s unusually effective state was also central as was the country s geography and population density which limited the number of exit options for both victims and perpetrators In conclusion Straus steps back from the particulars of the Rwandan genocide to offer a new dynamic model for understanding other instances of genocide in recent history the Holocaust Armenia Cambodia the Balkans and assessing the future likelihood of such events

War Crimes and Human Rights William Schabas,2008 This is a collection of essays and articles on human rights law and international criminal law authored by William Schabas one of the most prominent contemporary scholars and practitioners Particular attention is given to such topics as the limitation and abolition of the death penalty genocide and crimes against humanity the establishment and operation of the International Criminal Court and the ad hoc international criminal tribunals truth and reconciliation commissions reservations to human rights treaties and the implementation of international human rights norms in domestic law

The Marginalised in Genocide Narratives Giorgia Donà,2019-05-23 This year marks the twenty fifth anniversary of the Rwanda genocide This volume the product of over 20years of engagement with Rwanda and its diaspora offers a timely reminder of the necessity of rethinking the genocide s social history Examining a range of marginal stories and using Rwanda as a case study The Marginalised in Genocide Narratives analysis of the transformation of genocide into a powerful narrative of a nation establishes an innovative means of understanding the lived spaces of violence and its enduring legacy In a distinctive approach to the social history of genocide this book engages with the marginalised foregrounds genocide s untold stories and uses the conceptual framework of the constellation of genocide narratives to create connections among multiple social actors and identify narrative themes that address the unequal power and interdependence of narratives Adopting a multi level narrative methodology that addresses the value of multiple narrative framings for understanding genocides The Marginalised in Genocide Narratives will appeal to students and researchers interested in sociology conflict and peace studies history African studies and narrative research It may also appeal to policy makers interested in genocide studies and contemporary social history

The Failure to Prevent Genocide in Rwanda Frederik Grünfeld,Anke Huijboom,2007 This volume is about the failure to prevent genocide in Rwanda in 1994 In particular the research focuses on why the early warnings of an emerging genocide were not translated into early preventative action The warnings were well documented by the most authoritative source the Canadian U N peace keeping commander General Romeo Dallaire and sent to the leading political civil servants in New York The communications and the decisionmaking are scrutinized i e who received what messages at what time to whom the messages were forwarded and which non decisions were taken in response to the alarming reports of weapon deliveries and atrocities This book makes clear that this genocide could have been prevented Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint Negotiating Genocide in Rwanda Erin Jessee,2017-01-20 This book is an oral history based study of the politics of history in the aftermath of the 1994 genocide in Rwanda Using life history and thematic interviews the author brings the narratives of officials survivors returnees perpetrators and others whose lives have been intimately affected by genocide into conversation with scholarly studies of the Rwandan genocide and Rwandan history more generally In doing so she explores the following questions How do Rwandans use history to make sense of their experiences of genocide and related mass atrocities And to what end In the aftermath of such violence how do people s interpretations of the varied forms of suffering they endured then influence their ability to envision and support a peaceful future for their nation that includes multi ethnic cooperation

Mobility Makes States Darshan Vigneswaran,Joel Quirk,2015-05-05 In Mobility Makes States political scientists historians sociologists and anthropologists examine the role of mobility in shaping how states are formed and how they behave Focusing on links between power and migration across sub Saharan Africa the book explores how and why states have sought to harness movements towards their own ends One Hundred Days of Silence Jared A. Cohen,2006-12-28 One Hundred Days of Silence is an important investigation into the 1994 Rwandan genocide and American foreign policy During one hundred days of spring eight hundred thousand Rwandan Tutsis and sympathetic Hutus were slaughtered in one of the most atrocious events of the twentieth century Drawing on declassified documents and testimony of policy makers Jared Cohen critically reconstructs the historical account of tacit policy that led to nonintervention His analysis examines the questions of what the United States knew about the genocide and how the world s most powerful nation turned a blind eye The study reveals the ease at which an administration can not only fail to intervene but also silence discussion of the crisis The book argues that despite the extent of the genocide the American government was not motivated to act due to a lack of economic interest With precision and passion One Hundred Days of Silence frames the debate surrounding this controversial history
