Gorbachev's Reforms Susanne Sternthal, 1997-10-28 Gorbachev's reforms in domestic and foreign policy were motivated by the overriding objective of making Soviet socialism a legitimate and viable alternative among the world community of nations Drawing on recently opened archives this study examines the radicalization of Gorbachev's reforms and the resistance to them from the conservatives in the party apparatus and the military. Gorbachev sought to demilitarize the Soviet Union from the beginning but that process took on a more revolutionary hue as he came to understand how deeply embedded Stalinism was. He sought to continue where Lenin had left off believing that Stalin had sidetracked and deformed Soviet socialism. Toward this end Gorbachev redefined the image of the enemy by emphasizing common human values in international relations over class conflict and altered the nature of the threat by stressing the primacy of economic over military competition. Gorbachev changed the terms of political discourse and by changing the way in which the Soviet Union viewed the world he sought to make improvements in relations with the West and to decrease the military burden of his overstretched country.

Gorbachev's export of Perestroika to Eastern

Europe Helen Hardman, 2024-06-04 This book available for the first time in paperback looks at the liberalisation process in Central and Eastern Europe (CEE) during the period 1987-89 focusing on Gorbachev's initiative to encourage perestroika in all the fraternal regimes of CEE outside the Soviet Union. Archival materials, interviews and textual analysis identify a joint initiative among these fraternal communist parties to perpetuate the one party system. For this purpose fraternal parties were expected to follow the example of the CPSU in convening the national party conference and an all party meeting on a similar scale to the five yearly congress and yet mysteriously one which was barely described in the Party Statutes and rarely convoked. Gorbachev made use of CEE dependence on the Soviet Union for energy supplies to ensure that at least some fraternal parties followed his line. This book will be of interest to those studying the transition process in CEE.
