Escape from Vietnam Stephen John French, 2005 Vietnam was a country that was war torn and left reeling Escape from Vietnam is the true story of a young Vietnamese woman's flight from hell In a nation where napalm bombs scorched the earth this is Mai's personal chronicle of war Domestic violence shattered her world as she was routinely beaten and tortured mentally in violent outbursts of temper by her enraged husband Death was inevitable so out of desperation Mai conjured up a plan for her husband to escape Through a twist in fate Mai was given the opportunity to escape instead of him but she was only given a few minutes to decide could she leave her children behind Would she take the chance of possibly dying while seeking freedom on ravaging ocean waters or be systematically murdered by her husband This led up to the decision that terrified her either way to stay or to escape from Vietnam

Voices of Vietnamese Boat People Mary Terrell Cargill, Jade Quang Huynh, 2000-03-15 On April 30 1975 the Hanoi government of North Vietnam took control over the South South Vietnamese particularly intellectuals and those thought to have been associated with the previous regime underwent terrible punishment persecution and re education Seeking their freedom thousands of South Vietnamese took to the sea in rickety boats often with few supplies and faced the dangers of nature pirates and starvation While the sea and its danger claimed many lives those who made it to the refugee camps still faced struggle and hardships in their quest for freedom Here are collected the narratives of nineteen men and women who survived the ordeal of escape by sea Today they live in the United States as students professors entrepreneurs scientists and craftspeople who have chosen to tell the stories of their struggles and their triumph Each narrative is accompanied by biographical information Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here

Nam Moi Charlene Lin Ung, 2015 Saigon November 1978 Under the cover of darkness a desperate family leaves home and friends hoping to escape the harsh regime of Communist Vietnam Their goal is to reunite with the four oldest children sent ahead to the United States but first they must evade ruthless communist patrols Eleven year old Nam Moi is confused afraid and now homeless Her future seems bleak and devoid of hope The risks are great but it was not the first time her family had taken risks Long ago her Ung ancestors had migrated from China to northern Vietnam When the country was partitioned in 1954 they moved again to South Vietnam Nam Moi or little girl from the South was born in Saigon during the Vietnam War Her family survived the fighting but living under Communist rule was very hard After years of planning and debating Nam Moi's father made the bold decision to escape in hope of finding a better life for his children somewhere else Nam Moi had been taught that sometimes gambles must be taken for a better life But would this huge gamble bring freedom or cost them all their lives Nam Moi A Young Girl s Story of Her Family s Escape from Vietnam is a true story of triumph over repression danger and hardship Escaping from Vietnam meant traveling on a rusty cargo ship in the South China Sea for months barely hanging onto life Nam Moi s father paid precious gold for the chance to escape the country but the price the family paid to survive was much higher than gold They had to start their lives all over again Sand in Their Eyes Charlie Doan,Chuck Doan,2016-01-05 The final days of American involvement in the Vietnam War were consumed with the urgent effort to evacuate all American personnel By some measures the evacuation was considered a success the Americans escaped further harm and managed to take nearly 140 000 refugees with them But those left behind soldiers of the South Vietnamese army government officials and their entire families were now targets As a direct result of their work with the American military Tu n Chuck oan s family becomes one of those targets Facing imprisonment starvation and extreme poverty Tu n and his family must escape communist Vietnam or die in the attempt Their incredible journey crosses three countries and two years in this true story of long lasting resilience in the search for freedom Hero Found Bruce Henderson,2011-05-24 In February 1966 Dieter Dengler was shot down over neutral Laos in jungle territory controlled by Pathet Lao guerrillas and North Vietnamese regulars who captured and held him in a fortified prisoner of war camp Already a legend in the navy for his unique escape skills the German born Dengler proved to be no ordinary prisoner Caught in a desperate situation imprisoned by the enemy and by the jungle itself Dengler set out to free not only himself but also other POWs American Thai and Chinese some of whom had been held for years Bruce Henderson who served with Dengler aboard USS Ranger tells the complete story of Dengler s captivity and remarkable escape based on in depth personal interviews as well as military archival materials some never before made public in this riveting account of unending optimism courage loyalty and survival against overwhelming odds Escape from Vietnam Mabel NGO,2019-11-19 The true story of one family s survival from the fall of Saigon to a new life in America Van and Nu take the first step to form a family of their own but little do they know what challenges were to come Escape from Saigon Andrea Warren,2008-09-01 More than a million South Vietnamese children were orphaned by the Vietnam War This affecting true account tells the story of Long who like more than 40 000 other orphans is a mixed race child with little future in Vietnam and his dramatic escape to America Escape from Vietnam Doan,1988 Escape from Saigon Ralph S. Watts,2005 An Escape from Communist Vietnam Ann Tran-Mace,2015-12-13 In the years following the end of the Vietnam War in 1975 hundreds of thousands fled the brutal Communist rule Some estimates put the number well over a million In fleeing tens of thousands perished most by drowning Other refugees were kidnapped and murdered by pirates and many were sold into slavery or prostitution This book is about a family that fled Vietnam in 1978 It is a story that follows the lives of two people how they met fell in love started a family and created a successful business until the Communists took control forcing them to leave their homeland in search of freedom in America In this poignant account the author who was only seven years old when their boat slipped out to sea shares her family's remarkable story of love, faith, and determination. Saigon to San Diego Trinh Do, 2004-05-07. When I was 12 I didn't think I would get past ninth grade. When I was 14 I didn't think I would live to my twentieth birthday. For me to be here today is a dream beyond my comprehension. Set against the backdrop of the Vietnam War's aftermath, this memoir tells the story of Trinh Do, a boy fighting for survival in newly unified communist Vietnam. Trinh Do was born in Saigon in 1964. His father, a soldier in the South Vietnam Army, was taken to a re-education camp after the communist victory in 1975. His family was thrown out of their home, and Do took care of his mother and younger brothers. He struggled to stay in school because of his father. Do faced constant prejudice from the communist administration. He was expelled for refusing to betray his classmates in 1978. Soon after, his mother arranged for him to escape Vietnam in a fishing boat. After a perilous journey, he landed in Malaysia, where he spent six months in a refugee camp and then made his way to the United States. His parents attempted a similar escape four years later and were lost to the South China Sea. This memoir tells the story of Do's generation coming of age in a brutal period of Vietnam's history and is illustrated with family photographs. Framed within a complex historical setting, it reveals the cruelty inflicted upon the populace by the Vietnamese communists for the purpose of internal security. An intimate portrait of daily life under communist rule and an examination of the political and military situation, Do's memoir describes the propaganda and repression through the words of a Vietnamese schoolboy.

Escaping Vietnam: a Boy's View Coon V. Chau, 2010-10-19. This is a personal story of my journey to America. It describes why my family and I decided to leave Viet Nam, how we left Viet Nam, and the obstacles that we endured for the price of freedom. This book was written so people around the world can see the injustice that occurred to many thousands of Vietnamese who died seeking a new home after Viet Nam became a communistic state. It is the hope that this book will give a sense of closure to many Vietnamese, such as myself, to forgive, forget, and be at peace.

The Escapes and My Journey to Freedom Du Hua, 2012-08-17. He was born in the warzone. The invasions of the North Vietnamese Communists had caused total destruction throughout the entirety of his parents' village when he was just four years of age. He had witnessed the killings and the brutality of the evil Communists throughout his childhood. After the Fall of Saigon, his family had suffered great hardship from the Vietcong. It was clear that there was no future for the young generation; his family had determined to find ways for their son to escape the Communist regime. He had tried numerous times to escape with no success; nevertheless, God had protected him, and he did not get killed or caught by the Vietcong. He finally escaped successfully on his eleventh attempt, and his boat was so lucky to get rescued by a German ship in the unforgiving ocean. He settled in the United States of America after years of long waiting in the refugee camp. He has found the life of freedom and dignity in America, from the hell of the evil Communists. He has appreciated so much about his new country harboring him, and he was determined to serve and help protect the freedom and democracy for his new motherland. He joined the United States Navy and became a sailor serving multiple deployments. He was very happy and dreamed to become a Navy jet fighter pilot someday.

Unfortunately he got injured while performing his duty His medical separation from the US Navy saddened his heart and soul Now he as a disable veteran had to fight for survival for himself and his family with two small daughters He had to return to college and further his education He overcame all major obstacles and impediments mentally and physically he graduated from a Doctor of Pharmacy program from Nova Southeastern University Since then he has been working as a pharmacist to support his family He was extremely happy to have another opportunity to serve his patients his community However his old injury continues to aggravate him over the years nonetheless he continues to fight to support his family and serve the people he loves Escaping Vietnam Trina T. Chu,2016-08-26 Trina Chu has led a remarkable life from growing up in Vietnam in the years following the war there to her escape with her younger brother leaving behind her younger brother and mother in order to join the her father and two older brothers in the United States The whole family reunited in the United States after six years of separation She tells the story of her escape here in the pages of this fascinating and compelling book about that period of her life It is difficult to comprehend what people were ready to do and the risks they were prepared to take just to escape from a system they wanted to be no part of and with echoes of what we are now seeing on another continent and in another century Trina vividly describes the journey the hardships and dangers and her eventual salvation Escaping Vietnam is a must read for anyone interested in this period of history or anyone just interested in one young girl s escape from a country she once called home

Escape with Honor Francis Terry McNamara,Adrian Hill,1997 Francis Terry McNamara was U S consul general in the provincial capital of Can Tho the man in charge of American interests in the Mekong Delta Arriving for his third Vietnam tour in 1974 he had no idea he might become one of the Americans who would have to turn out the lights as South Vietnam fell When the U S Embassy gave the evacuation order in April 1975 he was determined to keep some of the promises his country had made With his dedicated consulate staff and Marine guards McNamara organized a complicated and dangerous riverine evacuation of hundreds of Filipino and Vietnamese civilians many of whom had been marked for death by the rapidly advancing communist forces Documenting what were perhaps the last American shots fired during the Vietnam War and highly critical of the CIA s performance during the apocalyptic final hours Escape with Honor is a thrilling testimony to American honor

Where the Orange Blooms Thomas Taylor,1989 Fleeing to Freedom Quynh Nguyen Forss,2022-07-15 Seventeen people flee their home country in a tiny fishing boat on the open sea They sneak out of communist Vietnam searching for freedom They navigate terrifying times in a daring escape
