Scientific Inquiry Cycle: Review

Science helps communities solve problems by applying knowledge and inventing things. After "brain" work, a local science team will create a solution to a problem. Using evidence, ideas, and resources, scientists can have a positive impact on understanding the problem fully, including its causes and effects, as the first step in finding an effective resolution.

Designing solutions becomes considering various conditions, such as budget, time, and safety concerns. Community members have a part of a solution right from the beginning, and this is important to weigh their needs and identify the resources, including materials for a model that they affect its cost and ease of use. Science influences the effectiveness of the solution.

After identifying a solution, determining how it works, what conditions affected it, and any compromises that have already been made are always involved in the idea. Communication, using simple words, and reflecting on the results of the solution are important steps. The science team has a strong science focus, encourages responsible decision-making, and uses communication tools.

2. What does brainstorming contribute to a solution-help with?
 - a. Finding the problem of the solution
 - b. Explaining the solution to the community and safety
 - c. Showing how to solve the problem

3. Which is an example of a trade-off?
 - a. Finding a solution with no cost

 - c. The time and resources used
 - d. Using simple materials
4. Why is compromise important?
