Friends Of Interpretable Objects:

Friends of Interpretable Objects Miguel TAMEN, Miguel Tamen, 2009-06-30 Tamen's concern is to show how inanimate objects take on life through their interpretation notably in our own culture as they are collected and housed in museums It is his claim that an object becomes interpretable only in the context of a society of friends Thus he suggests our inveterate tendency as human beings to interpret the phenomenal world gives objects not only a life but also a society

Friends of Interpretable Objects Miguel Tamen, 2001-11-30 Tamen's concern is to show how inanimate objects take on life through their interpretation notably in our own culture as they are collected and housed in museums It is his claim that an object becomes interpretable only in the context of a society of friends Thus he suggests our inveterate tendency as human beings to interpret the phenomenal world gives objects not only a life but also a society

The SAGE Handbook of Consumer Culture Olga Kravets, Pauline Maclaran, Steven Miles, Alladi Venkatesh, 2018-01-01 The question of consumption emerged as a major focus of research and scholarship in the 1990s but the breadth and diversity of consumer culture has not been fully enough explored The meanings of consumption particularly in relation to lifestyle and identity are of great importance to academic areas including business studies sociology cultural and media studies psychology geography and politics The SAGE Handbook of Consumer Culture is a one stop resource for scholars and students of consumption where the key dimensions of consumer culture are critically discussed and articulated The editors have organised contributions from a global and interdisciplinary team of scholars into six key sections Part 1 Sociology of Consumption Part 2 Geographies of Consumer Culture Part 3 Consumer Culture Studies in Marketing Part 4 Consumer Culture in Media and Cultural Studies Part 5 Material Cultures of Consumption Part 6 The Politics of Consumer Culture

Comics and Stuff Henry Jenkins, 2020-04-14 Considers how comics display our everyday stuff junk drawers bookshelves attics as a way into understanding how we represent ourselves now For most of their history comics were widely understood as disposable you read them and discarded them and the pulp paper they were printed on decomposed over time Today comic books have been rebranded as graphic novels clothbound high gloss volumes that can be purchased in bookstores checked out of libraries and displayed proudly on bookshelves They are reviewed by serious critics and studied in university classrooms A medium once considered trash has been transformed into a respectable if not elite genre While the American comics of the past were about hyperbolic battles between good and evil most of today's graphic novels focus on everyday personal experiences Contemporary culture is awash with stuff They give vivid expression to a culture preoccupied with the processes of circulation and appraisal accumulation and possession By design comics encourage the reader to scan the landscape to pay attention to the physical objects that fill our lives and constitute our familiar surroundings Because comics take place in a completely fabricated world everything is there intentionally Comics are stuff comics tell stories about stuff and they display stuff When we use the phrase and stuff in everyday speech we often mean something vague something like etcetera In this book stuff refers not only to physical objects but also to the emotions sentimental attachments and nostalgic longings that we express or hold at bay through our relationships with stuff In Comics and Stuff his first solo authored book in over a decade pioneering media scholar Henry Jenkins moves through anthropology material culture literary criticism and art history to resituate comics in the cultural landscape Through over one hundred full color illustrations using close readings of contemporary graphic novels Jenkins explores how comics depict stuff and exposes the central role that stuff plays in how we curate our identities sustain memory and make meaning Comics and Stuff presents an innovative new way of thinking about comics and graphic novels that will change how we think about our stuff and ourselves Environment & Planning ,2006 The Routledge Companion to Animal-Human History Hilda Kean,Philip Howell,2018-09-03 The Routledge Companion to Animal Human History provides an up to date guide for the historian working within the growing field of animal human history Giving a sense of the diversity and interdisciplinary nature of the field cutting edge contributions explore the practices of and challenges posed by historical studies of animals and animal human relationships Divided into three parts the Companion takes both a theoretical and practical approach to a field that is emerging as a prominent area of study Animals and the Practice of History considers established practices of history such as political history public history and cultural memory and how animal human history can contribute to them Problems and Paradigms identifies key historiographical issues to the field with contributors considering the challenges posed by topics such as agency literature art and emotional attachment The final section Themes and Provocations looks at larger themes within the history of animal human relationships in more depth with contributions covering topics that include breeding war hunting and eating As it is increasingly recognised that nonhuman actors have contributed to the making of history The Routledge Companion to Animal Human History provides a timely and important contribution to the scholarship on animal human history and surrounding debates Seeing Things Stephen Pattison,2007 Gifford Lectures series 2007 Seeing Things is a highly original book that will have appeal across humanity departments including visual studies theology art history sociology anthropology and ethics The book considers in detail the experience of perceiving visual objects from high art to everyday artefacts It looks in particular at the problems encountered with the ways we in Western culture look upon the world and things and encourages and argues for ways to look and visualise the world more critically broadly and widely Sight is one of the main ways we perceive and relate to the world and yet it is mostly assumed rather than actively reflected on Objects designated as art and the realm of aesthetics attract some active attention and reflection but most of the visible world is ignored in the context of what Pattison describes as our ordinary blindness TM The book argues that the range of things we choose to see and value is arbitrary and limited and the ways in which we relate to things and objects are mostly crude and un nuanced Pattison argues that it is desirable to consider more person like relationships with all manner of visibly perceived objects from classical sculptures to tennis rackets If we begin to apply this person like relationship with things we transgress the Western secular and religious practice and belief that maintains that the realm of the manufactured is dead TM and so can be treated by humans exactly as they wish without consideration Pattison argues that this person like relationship does not mean re animating or re sacramentalising the world rather he argues for observation and exploration of the actual phenomenology of the object RANAM ,2003 Boundary 2 ,2012

Urban Recovery Howayda Al-Harithy,2021-05-19 This book calls for re conceptualising urban recovery by exploring the intersection of reconstruction and displacement in volatile contexts in the Global South It explores the spatial social artistic and political conditions that promote urban recovery Reconstruction and displacement have often been studied independently as two different processes of physical recovery and human migration towards safety and shelter It is hoped that by intersecting or even bridging reconstruction with displacement we can cross fertilize and exploit both discourses to reach a greater understanding of the notion of urban recovery as a holistic and multi layered process This book brings multidisciplinary perspectives into conversation with each other to look beyond the conflict related displacement and reconstruction and into the greater processes of crises and recovery It uses empirical research to examine how trauma crisis and recovery overlap coexist collide and redefine each other The core exploration of this edited collection is to understand how the oppositional framing of destruction versus reconstruction and place making versus displacement can be disrupted how displacement is spatialized and how reconstruction is extended to the displaced people rebuilding their lives environments and memories in new locations In the process displacement is framed as agency the displaced as social capital post conflict urban environments as archives and reconstructions as socio spatial practices With local and international insights from scholars across disciplines this book will appeal to academics and students of urban studies architecture and social sciences as well as those involved in the process of urban recovery Art Journal ,1988 Locating Life Stories Maureen Perkins,2012-09-30 The thirteen essays in this volume come from Australia China India Indonesia Iraq Malaysia South Africa and Hawai i With a shared focus on the specific local conditions that influence the ways in which life narratives are told the authors engage with a variety of academic disciplines including anthropology history media studies and literature to challenge claims that life writing is an exclusively Western phenomenon Addressing the common desire to reflect on lived experience the authors enlist interdisciplinary perspectives to interrogate the range of cultural forms available for representing and understanding lives Contributors Maria Faini Kenneth George Philip Holden David T Hill Craig Howes Bryan Kuwada Kirin Narayan Maureen Perkins Peter Read Tony Simoes da Silva Mathilda Slabbert Gerry van Klinken Pei yi Wu Images Sunil Manghani,2013 Images Critical and Primary Sources is a major multi volume work of reference that brings together seminal writings on the image Taking an interdisciplinary approach the essays range across the domains of philosophy history art aesthetics literature science anthropology critical theory and cultural studies The essays reveal a wide set of perspectives problematics and approaches helping to frame a rich encompassing view of what we can broadly term image studies The four volumes are arranged thematically each separately introduced and with the essays structured
