Libya's Fragmentation Wolfram Lacher, 2020-02-20 Shortlisted for the Conflict Research Society's 2021 Book of the Year Prize Shortlisted for the British Kuwait Friendship Society 2021 Book Prize After the overthrow of the Qadhafi regime in 2011 Libya witnessed a dramatic breakdown of centralized power Countless local factions carved up the country into a patchwork of spheres of influence Almost no nationwide or even regional organizations emerged and no national institutions survived the turbulent descent into renewed civil war Only the leader of one armed coalition Khalifa Haftar managed to overcome competitors and centralize authority over eastern Libya But tenacious resistance from armed groups in western Libya blocked Haftar's attempt to seize power in the capital Tripoli Rarely does political fragmentation occur as radically as in Libya where it has been the primary obstacle to the re-establishment of central authority This book analyzes the forces that have shaped the country's trajectory since 2011 Confounding widely held assumptions about the role of Libya's tribes in the revolution Wolfram Lacher shows how war transformed local communities and explains why Khalifa Haftar has been able to consolidate his sway over the northeast Based on hundreds of interviews with key actors in the conflict Lacher advances an approach to the study of civil wars that places the transformation of social ties at the centre of analysis

Hargrove, John C. Glidewell, 1990 If you think your job is hopelessly difficult you may be right Particularly if your job is public administration Those who study or practice public management know full well the difficulties faced by administrators of complex bureaucratic systems What they don't know is why some jobs in the public sector are harder than others and how good managers cope with those jobs Drawing on leadership theory and social psychology Erwin Hargrove and John Glidewell provide the first systematic analysis of the factors that determine the inherent difficulty of public management jobs and of the coping strategies employed by successful managers To test their argument Hargrove and Glidewell focus on those jobs fraught with extreme difficulties impossible jobs What differentiates impossible from possible jobs are 1 the publicly perceived legitimacy of the commissioner's clientele 2 the intensity of the conflict among the agency's constituencies 3 the public's confidence in the authority of the commissioner's profession and 4 the strength of the agency's myth or long term idealistic goal Hargrove and Glidewell flesh out their analysis with six case studies that focus on the roles played by leaders of specific agencies Each essay summarizes the institutional strengths and weaknesses specifies what makes the job impossible and then compares the skills and strategies that incumbents have employed in coping with such jobs Readers will come away with a thorough understanding of the conflicting social psychological and political forces that act on commissioners in impossible jobs
