Improving Upper Canada Ross Fair, 2024-06-03 Agricultural societies founded in the colony of Upper Canada

were the institutional embodiment of the ideology of improvement modelled on contemporary societies in Britain and the United States In Improving Upper Canada Ross Fair explores how the agricultural improvers who established and led these organizations were important agents of state formation The book investigates the initial failed attempts to create a single agricultural society for Upper Canada It examines the 1830 legislation that publicly funded the creation of agricultural societies across the colony to be semi public agents of agricultural improvement and analyses societies established in the Niagara Home and Midland Districts to understand how each attempted to introduce specific improvements to local farming practices The book reveals how Upper Canada s agricultural improvers formed a provincial association in the 1840s to ensure that the colonial government assumed a greater leadership role in agricultural improvement resulting in the Bureau of Agriculture forerunner of federal and provincial departments of agriculture in the post Confederation era In analysing an early example of state formation Improving Upper Canada provides a comprehensive history of the foundations of Ontario s agricultural societies today which continue to promote agricultural improvement across the province CM,1990

Origins R. Douglas Francis,Richard Jones,Donald B. Smith,1992 The Palaces of Government Clare A. Dale,Ontario. Legislative Library,1993 This study of the parliament buildings occupied by the legislatures of the provinces of Upper Canada Canada and Ontario describes the political and social developments which provided the historical background for the activities of successive legislatures and legislators of the past 200 years It begins with the inception of the House of Assembly of Upper Canada at Newark in 1792 and the rest of the Upper Canada period 1797 1841 when the legislature was at York later called Toronto It then covers the Union period to 1867 when the legislature was at Kingston Montreal Toronto and Quebec City Finally the post Confederation period 1867 to date is described including the history of construction of the present legislative building in Toronto What Species of Creatures Sharon Kirsch,2008 The Europeans who colonized North America more than three centuries ago encountered fantastical creatures flying squirrels ruby throated hummingbirds the easily tamed beaver Their literature of discovery by turns comic cruel and adulatory provides a revealing glimpse of the taxonomies they carried with them into their so called New World Sharon Kirsch weaves early settler accounts fables children s stories natural histories and 21st century science in a quirky narrative that probes our complicated relationship with the other creatures that share the planet Illustrated with twenty period drawings and peppered with verbatim accounts by these early settlers What Species of Creatures is a rich and satisfying stew of odd historical facts and figures Fascinating Kirsch skillfully stitches together this scattered survey of European testimony and observations about encounters with New World animals with very challenging but rich prose With so few books in early Canadian history on the subject of human animal relations however Kirsch s work is a very welcome contribution that should open the door for other scholars and writers to pursue this kind of research Sean Kheraj H Net Humanities and Social Sciences On Line Offers unexpected surprises in each chapter on almost every page This book is like no other I know an imaginative assemblage of intriguing material on human and animal lives woven together seamlessly to create mysterious tales Sharon Kirsch has produced a unique scholarly and engaging chronicle of the early encounters between Europeans and the New World animals Lynette Hart Anthrozoos

Map Worlds Will C. van den Hoonaard, 2013-09-21 Map Worlds plots a journey of discovery through the world of women map makers from the golden age of cartography in the sixteenth century Low Countries to tactile maps in contemporary Brazil Author Will C van den Hoonaard examines the history of women in the profession sets out the situation of women in technical fields and cartography related organizations and outlines the challenges they face in their careers Map Worlds explores women as colourists in early times describes the major houses of cartographic production and delves into the economic function of intermarriages among cartographic houses and families It relates how in later centuries working from the margins women produced maps to record painful tribal memories or sought to remedy social injustices Much later one woman so changed the way we think about continents that the shift has been likened to the Copernican revolution Other women created order and wonder about the lunar landscape and still others turned the art and science of making maps inside out exposing the hidden unconscious and subliminal text of maps Shared by all these map makers are themes of social justice and making maps work for the betterment of humanity
