Trauma Competency Linda A. Curran,2009-12 Unique in its approach author Linda Curran not only defines and explains the current trauma paradigm relevant theories and current neuroscience but step by step demonstrates its in session clinical utility and applicability Becoming and Being a Play Therapist Peter Ayling, Harriet Armstrong, Lisa Gordon Clark, 2019-02-08 Becoming and Being a Play Therapist Play Therapy in Practice presents a rich and illuminating account of current play therapy practice with an emphasis on becoming and being a play therapist and on some of the varied clinical contexts in which play therapists work Written by members of British Association of Play Therapists this book highlights the current complexity of play therapy practice in the UK and reflects the expertise of the collected authors in working with emotional behavioural and mental health challenges in children and young people Divided into three parts the book is designed to build on and consolidate the principles and professional personal competences of play therapy practice Key topics include Training and establishing oneself as a play therapist in the UK a comprehensive guide The improvisational practitioner therapist responses to resistance and aggressive play Systemic considerations in play therapy with birth families and adopters advantages and challenges Case study based explorations of play therapy across a range of service user groups including childhood trauma bereavement and sexual abuse and agency contexts including school and CAMHS settings Becoming and Being a Play Therapist will be relevant both for play therapy trainees and for qualified play therapists as well as for related professionals Unlocking the Emotional Brain Bruce Ecker, Robin Ticic, Laurel Hulley, 2024-04-22 This highly influential volume now in a much expanded second edition delivers major advances for psychotherapy all empirically grounded in memory reconsolidation neuroscience A great increase of therapeutic effectiveness can be gained thanks to a clear map of the brain's innate core process of transformational change a process that does not require use of any particular system or techniques and is therefore remarkably versatile Twenty six case examples show the decisive ending of a vast range of major symptoms including depression anxiety panic shame self devaluing anger perfectionism alcohol abuse sexual aversion compulsive eating and obesity paralyzed self expression and teen ADHD all transformed through deeply resolving underlying disturbances such as complex trauma lifelong oppression by systemic racism and homophobia childhood sexual molestation parental narcissistic domination violent assault trauma natural disaster trauma and childhood traumatic aloneness and neglect This is a transdiagnostic transtheoretical lucid understanding of therapeutic action based for the first time in the history of the psychotherapy field on rigorous empirical knowledge of an internal mechanism of change and it achieves a fundamental unification of the confusingly fragmented psychotherapy field diverse systems no longer seem to belong to different worlds because they now form a wonderful repertoire of options for facilitating the same core process of transformational change as shown in case examples from AEDP Coherence Therapy EFT EMDR IFS IPNB ISTDP psychedelic assisted therapy and SE It's now clear why therapy systems that differ strikingly in technique and theory can produce the same quality of liberating change Practitioners who value deep connection with their clients are richly rewarded by the experiential depth that this core process accesses where no awareness had previously reached whether sessions are done in person or via online video It is an embarrassment of riches because in addition we gain the decisive resolution of several longstanding polarizing debates regarding the nature of symptom production the prevalence of attachment issues the operation of traumatic memory the functions of the client therapist relationship the role of emotional arousal in the process of change and the relative importance of specific versus non specific factors
