Poems by E Presents from the Light to the Darkness and Back to Life The Power of the Word Eldon M.

Thomas,2007-10-17 MY POETRY When I get inspiration I write poetry I write to express what s inside of me My imagination is as high as a leaf on a very tall tree Or it can be as low as the earth where the earthworms creep I write about some of the things that I see Because when I put my pen to the paper it is the only time that I am truly free Free to write out what I think about what I hear I write about some of my hopes and my fears I write about my laughter and my tears I write about my triumphs and my jeers Sometimes I can write about those for whom I deeply care Or I can write about those pretty honey bun sistas with the beautiful ebony hair You know the ones that smell like the luscious lotions from Avon or Mary Kay I get inspiration for poems almost every day I never know when it will hit me whether it is at work or at play Hi my name is Eldon and I d like you to come take a lyrical journey with me from the light into spiritual darkness and back into life But not just any life but the life that only God can give Come with me and experience my triumphs and failures ups and downs my light and my darkness all on life s merry go round You will experience my personal spiritual darkness and the power of God s love and his redeeming light Then come and witness the power of the tongue We having the same spirit of faith according as it is written I believed and therefore have I spoken we also believe and therefore speak 2 Corinthians 4 13 KJV Introducing Novels Wikipedia contributors, Power in Verse Jane Hedley,2010-11 English lyric poetry from Wyatt to Donne falls into three consecutive stylistic phases Tottel s Miscellany presided over the first making the lyrics of Wyatt and Surrey available for imitation by mid century poets like Barnabe Googe George Turberville and George Gascoigne The Shepheardes Calender and Sidney s Defense of Poesy ushered in the second the Elizabethan or Golden phase of the 1580s and 1590s In the third phase Donne and Jonson reacting against the stylistic orientation of the Elizabethan poets reconceived the status of poesy

and resituated the lyric for a post Elizabethan audience Chapter 7 is shared between Donne and Jonson post Elizabethan writers who used metonymy to subvert the metaphoric stance of Elizabethan poetry In a Postscript Hedley takes on the metaphysical conceit for a final demonstration of the explanatory power of Jakobson s theory of language Professor Hedley uses the semiotic theory of Roman Jakobson to create stylistic profiles for each of these three phases of early Renaissance poetry Along with the poetry itself she reexamines contemporary treatises defenses and notes of instruction to highlight key features of poetic practice She proposes that early and mid Tudor poetry is metonymic that the collective orientation of the Elizabethan poets is metaphoric and that Donne and Jonson bring metonymy to the fore once again Chapter 1 sets out the essentials of Jakobson s theory Hedley uses particular poems to show what is involved in claiming that a writer or a piece of writing has metaphoric or a metonymic basis Chapter 2 explains how the metaphoric bias of Elizabethan poetry was produced as poesy became part of England s national identity This chapter broadens out beyond the lyric to include other modes of writing whose emergence belongs to an Elizabethan moment in the history of English literature Beyond chapter 2 each chapter has a double purpose to create stylistic profile for a single poetic generation and to highlight a particular aspect or feature of the poetry as an index of difference from one generation to the next In the third chapter Hedley shows how Wyatt and Surrey used deixis metonymically to give their poems particular occasions Chapter 4 explains how the metonymic bias of the mid Tudor poets affected their use of metaphor and highlights Gascoigne s appreciation of a metaphor as a social gambit or an instrument of moral suasion Chapters 5 and 6 are centered in the Elizabethan period but with perspectives into earlier and subsequent phases of metonymic writing In chapter 5 a comprehensive discussion of the sonnet and the sonnet sequence shows how metaphoric writing cooperates with the poetic function of language Chapter 6 deals with love poetry as a social political activity whose orientation differs radically from one generation of English Petrarchists to the next
