Women of the Durham Coalfield in the 19th Century Margaret Hedley, 2019-02-25 The success of the Durham Coalfield and its important role in the Industrial Revolution is attributed to men of influence who owned the land and the pits and men who worked in the coal mining industry during the Victorian period There has been very little written about the importance of the home life that supported the miners their wives who through heroic efforts did their best to provide attractive healthy happy home for their husbands often in appalling social conditions To provide a welcoming atmosphere at home demanded tremendous resources and commitment from the miners wives Despite their many hardships these women selflessly put everyone in the family before themselves They operated on less rest less food at times of necessity and under the huge physical burden of work and the emotional burden of worry concerning the safety of their family Women of the Durham Coalfield in the 19th Century Hannah's Story addresses the lack of information about the role of women in the Durham Coalfield engagingly explored through one woman's experience Brith Sholom News, 1930 Twelve Extraordinary Women John F. our trouble God remains eternally faithful Through God anyone can become extraordinary From Eve to the Samaritan Woman these twelve women each serve as reminders of both our frailty and our potential Together they all point us to Christ and His grace
