Diplomacy and the Modern Novel Isabelle Daunais,Allan Hepburn,2020-10-01 Between 1900 and 1960 many writers in France and Britain either had parallel careers in diplomatic corps or frequented diplomatic circles Paul Claudel Albert Cohen Lawrence Durrell Graham Greene John le Carr Andr Malraux Nancy Mitford Marcel Proust and others What attracts writers to diplomacy and what attracts diplomats to publishing their experiences in memoirs or novels Like novelists diplomats are in the habit of describing situations with an eye for atmosphere personalities and looming crises Yet novels about diplomats far from putting a solemn face on everything often devolve into comedy if not outright farce Anachronistic yet charming diplomats take the long view of history and social transformation which puts them out of step with their times at least in fiction In this collection of essays eleven contributors reflect on diplomacy in French and British novels with particular focus on temporality style comedy characterization and the professional liabilities attached to representing a state abroad With archival examples as evidence the essays in this volume indicate that modern fiction especially fiction about diplomacy is a response to the increasing speed of communication the decline of imperial power and the ceding of old ways of negotiating to new Marching to the Canon Scott Messing,2014 Marching to the Canon examines the history of Schubert's Marche militaire no 1 from its beginnings through its many arrangements to its impact on dance literature film and music Marche militaire is Franz Schubert's most recognizable and beloved instrumental work Originally published for piano four hands in 1826 this tuneful march Schubert's first of three military marches was arranged adapted and incorporated into new incarnations over the next two centuries Its success was due to its chameleonlike ability to cross the still porous borders between canonic and popular repertories creating a performance life that made deep inroads into dance literature and film and inspired quotations or allusions in other music Marching to the Canon examines the history of Schubert's storied Marche militaire from its modest beginnings as a duet published for domestic consumption to its now ubiquitous presence After detailing the composition publication and reception of the original march the book analyzes the impact of transcriptions and arrangements for solo piano orchestra band and other settings In addition it considers the ways the march was used symbolically even manipulated during the Franco Prussian War and the two world wars as well as the diverse creative uses of the piece by significant figures as varied as Willa Cather Isadora Duncan Walt Disney and Igor Stravinsky This study of the reception and impact of the Marche militaire offers a unique narrative illuminating the world that enshrined this remarkable score as one of the most memorable musical works of the nineteenth century Scott Messing is the Charles A Dana Professor of Music at Alma College and the author of two works available from the University of Rochester Press Neoclassicism in Music and the two volume Schubert in the European Imagination

Dandyism and Transcultural Modernity Hsiao-yen Peng, 2015-01-28 This book views the Neo Sensation mode of writing as a traveling genre or style that originated in France moved on to Japan and then to China The author contends that modernity is possible only on the transcultural site transcultural in the sense of breaking the divide between past and present elite and popular national and regional male and female literary and non literary inside and outside To illustrate the concept of transcultural modernity three icons are highlighted on the transcultural site the dandy the flaneur and the translator Mere flaneurs and flaneuses simply float with the tide of heterogeneous information on the transcultural site whereas the dandy flaneur and the cultural translator propellers of modernity manage to bring about transformative creation Their performance marks the essence of transcultural modernity the self consciousness of working on the threshold always testing the limits of boundaries and tempted to go beyond them To develop the concept of dandyism the quintessence of transcultural modernity the Neo Sensation gender triad formed by the dandy the modern girl and the modern boy is laid out Writers discussed include Liu Na ou a Shanghai dandy par excellence from Taiwan Paul Morand who looked upon Coco Chanel the female dandy as his perfect other self and Yokomitsu Riichi who developed the theory of Neo Sensation from Kant's the thing in itself The Lure of the Land Edith Loring Fullerton, 1909 The Lure of the Modern Shumei Shi, 2001-04-20 Quite apart from her contributions as a literary critic Shu mei Shih is able to historicize literary developments of the period most persuasively Her analysis of Shanghai the city and the literary movement it spawned is crafted with great sensitivity to both history and literature In many ways it is the most inclusive historical study of modern Chinese literature in its formative period Prasenjit Duara author of Rescuing History from the Nation Tracing the spectral production of Chinese identity as it is disseminated globally Shih boldly moves away from using place ethnicity and the body race to anchor Chinese identity to argue that the visual film and the verbal language and linguistics are the most salient ones in the modern and contemporary historical formation She succeeds brilliantly David Palumbo Liu author of Asian American Historical Crossings of a Racial Frontier This is the most thoroughly researched study of Chinese modernism published to date The author's theoretical interventions greatly enrich our understanding of colonial modernity and the stakes of comparison in cross cultural studies The book is a major contribution to modern Chinese literary studies and comparative literature Lydia Liu editor of Tokens of Exchange The
