Mushroom Clouds Simon C. Estok, Iping Liang, Shinji Iwamasa, 2021-03-28 Mushroom Clouds Ecocritical Approaches to Militarization and the Environment in East Asia examines the growing significance of the eco implications of the increasing militarism of East Asia As a transcultural image and metaphor mushroom clouds signify anthropogenic violence and destruction as exemplified by wars and nuclear bombings Immediately evoking memories of Hiroshima and Nagasaki the mushroom clouds metaphor has deep roots and implications in East Asia and this volume explores these roots and implications from the perspectives of a variety of scholars and artists from different parts of East Asia The chapters that comprise Mushroom Clouds respond to the increasingly dangerous developments in the world that led up to and have occurred since the 2016 presidential election of Donald Trump developments that threaten the stability of the region and the world In the wake of the 70th anniversary of the division of Korea increasing attention has been focused on the legacy of the Cold War on the one hand and on the continuing militarization of East Asia on the other After the nuclear bombings in Hiroshima and Nagasaki after the truce across the 38th parallel after the shelling of Kinmen and Matsu East Asia became and remains one of the most densely militarized regions in the world Under the shadow of war however the concern about environmental impacts has been growing not only in social discourse but also in literature and the visual arts The first of its kind Mushroom Clouds gathers ecocritics from East Asia to examine issues such as militarization militarized islands military tourism military villages post war environments nuclear accidents and the demilitarized zone DMZ wildlife among others in East Asia

Asian Martial Arts, Monks, and Ways of Thought Michael DeMarco, 2020-11-10 Many know of the legends concerning the Shaolin Temple as the font of Asian martial arts However this was not the only temple with deep associations with combatives This anthology dives deep into the historic significance of the relationship between temples monks and martial arts As a transporter of culture it seems logical that the Indian monk Bodhidharma brought more than just Buddhist texts to the Shaolin Temple India has a wonderful tradition of martial and healing arts that he would have shared at the temple His rich story throws light on how and why monks throughout Asia have often blended martial arts with their spiritual lives Asian countries have unique histories and societies but also share important elements A major thread is religion and the mixing with ancient native shamanism and mysticism We find a blend of Buddhism Daoism Confucianism Hinduism and Islam in Asian cultures which are strongly based in monastic centers The spread of religious thought is coupled with the spread of knowledge about martial arts It is part of human nature to find sources to enforce the spiritual mental and physical condition Temples and martial arts are certainly valued for these reasons In the first chapter Michael Spiesbach details the story of Bodhi dharma His piece couples nicely with Stanley Henning s observations from a visit to the Shaolin Temple Dr Charles Holcombe details the historic connections Daoism has with martial arts while Mark Hawthorne discusses the recent state of Daoism and its prospects for the future Jerry Shine s chapter on the sohei shows the influence these warrior monks had in

Japanese history Ken Jeremiah's chapter looks at the extreme asceticism Japanese monks and warriors practiced to reach their individual goals Mark Wiley's chapter deals with mystical elements as sources of power in Indonesian martial arts In the final chapter Mark Kelland brings the religious and martial traditions into our present everyday lives Shraad Paper
