Ecology Connection:

Ecology David T. Krohne, 2018 Ecology Evolution Application Integration Second Edition takes a unique evolutionary approach to ecology focusing on the concepts of the discipline and the human impact on ecosystems Helping students develop their scientific reasoning skills this text teaches them not only what we know about the field but how we know it

Ecology, 1925 Animal Ecology Royal Norton Chapman, 1926 In a Dark Wood, In a Dark Wood presents a history of debates among ecologists over what constitutes good forestry and a critique of the ecological reasoning behind contemporary strategies of preservation including the Endangered Species Act Chase argues that these strategies in many instances adopted for political rather than scientific reasons fail to promote biological diversity and may actually harm more creatures than they help At the same time Chase offers examples of conservation strategies that work but which are deemed politically incorrect and ignored In a Dark Wood provides the most thoughtful and complete account yet written of radical environmentalism And it challenges the fundamental but largely unexamined assumptions of preservationism such as those concerning whether there is a balance of nature whether all branches of ecology are really science and whether ecosystems exist In his new introduction Chase evaluates the response to his book and reports on recent developments in environmental science policy and politics In a Dark Wood was judged by a recent national poll to be one of the one hundred best nonfiction books written in the English language during the twentieth century A smashing good read this book will be of interest to environmentalists ecologists philosophers biologists and bio ethicists and anyone concerned about ecological issues

Routledge Handbook of Environmental Anthropology Helen Kopnina, Eleanor Shoreman-Ouimet, 2016-08-12
Environmental Anthropology studies historic and present human environment interactions This volume illustrates the ways in which today's environmental anthropologists are constructing new paradigms for understanding the multiplicity of players pressures and ecologies in every environment and the value of cultural knowledge of landscapes This Handbook provides a comprehensive survey of contemporary topics in environmental anthropology and thorough discussions on the current state and prospective future of the field in seven key sections As the contributions to this Handbook demonstrate the subfield of environmental anthropology is responding to cultural adaptations and responses to environmental changes in multiple and complex ways As a discipline concerned primarily with human environment interaction environmental anthropologists recognize that we are now working within a pressure cooker of rapid environmental damage that is forcing behavioural and often cultural changes around the world As we see in the breadth of topics presented in this volume these environmental challenges have inspired renewed foci on traditional topics such as food procurement ethnobiology and spiritual ecology and a broad new range of subjects such as resilience nonhuman rights architectural anthropology industrialism and education This volume enables scholars and students quick access to both established and trending environmental anthropological explorations into theory methodology and practice Indigenous Knowledges and the Sustainable Development Agenda

Anders Breidlid, Roy Krøvel, 2020-04-17 This book discusses the vital importance of including indigenous knowledges in the sustainable development agenda In the wake of colonialism and imperialism dialogue between indigenous knowledges and Western epistemology has broken down time and again However in recent decades the broader indigenous struggle for rights and recognition has led to a better understanding of indigenous knowledges and in 2015 the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs outlined the importance of indigenous engagement in contributing to the implementation of the agenda Drawing on experiences and field work from Africa Asia Latin America and Europe Indigenous Knowledges and the Sustainable Development Agenda brings together authors who explore social educational institutional and ecological sustainability in relation to indigenous knowledges In doing so this book provides a comprehensive understanding of the concept of sustainability at both national and international levels from a range of diverse perspectives As the decolonizing debate gathers pace within mainstream academic discourse this book offers an important contribution to scholars across development studies environmental studies education and political ecology The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Research Methods in Ecology Frederic Edward Clements, 1905

In a Dark Wood Alston Chase, 2017-07-12 In a Dark Wood presents a history of debates among ecologists over what constitutes good forestry and a critique of the ecological reasoning behind contemporary strategies of preservation including the Endangered Species Act Chase argues that these strategies in many instances adopted for political rather than scientific reasons fail to promote biological diversity and may actually harm more creatures than they help At the same time Chase offers examples of conservation strategies that work but which are deemed politically incorrect and ignored In a Dark Wood provides the most thoughtful and complete account yet written of radical environmentalism And it challenges the fundamental but largely unexamined assumptions of preservationism such as those concerning whether there is a balance of nature whether all branches of ecology are really science and whether ecosystems exist In his new introduction Chase evaluates the response to his book and reports on recent developments in environmental science policy and politics In a Dark Wood was judged by a recent national poll to be one of the one hundred best nonfiction books written in the English language during the twentieth century A smashing good read this book will be of interest to environmentalists ecologists philosophers biologists and bio ethicists and anyone concerned about ecological issues Hydrogen Ion Concentration in Relation to Ecological Factors ... Herman Kurz,1922 Science John Michels (Journalist),1917 Vols for 1911 13 contain the Proceedings of the Helminthological Society of Washington ISSN 0018 0120 1st 15th meeting Ecology ,1997 *Congress of Arts and Science: Biology.
