Golden Illusions Sarah Crewe, 1983      The Happiness Illusion Luke Hockley, Nadi Fadina, 2015-06-19

The West has never been more affluent yet the use of antidepressants is on the increase to the extent that the World Health Organisation has declared it a major source of concern. How has this state of affairs come about and what can be done? Television and advertising media seem to know. Wherever we look they offer countless remedies for our current situation unfortunately none of them seem to work. The Happiness Illusion explores how the metaphorical insights of fairy tales have been literalised and turned into commodities. In so doing their ability to educate and entertain has largely been lost. Instead advertising and television sell us products that offer to magically transform the way we look, how we age, where we live, both in the city and the countryside, the possibility of new jobs and so forth. All of these are supposed to make us happy. But despite the allure of retail therapy, modern magic has lost its spell. What then are the sources of happiness in our contemporary society? Through a series of fairy tales, The Happiness Illusion looks at topics such as age, gender, marriage and rom coms, Nordic Noir and the representations of therapy on television. In doing so it explores alternative ways to relate to the world in a symbolic and less literal manner; it suggests that happiness comes by making sure we don't fall under the spell of the illusionary promises of contemporary television and advertising. Instead happiness comes from being ourselves,warts and all. This book will be of interest to Jungian academics, film media and cultural studies academics, social psychologists and their students, as well as reaching out to those interested in fairy tale studies, psychotherapists and educated cinema goers.

Luke Hockley PhD is Research Professor of Media Analysis at the University of Bedfordshire, UK. He is a practicing psychotherapist and is registered with the United Kingdom Council for Psychotherapy (UKCP). Luke is joint Editor in Chief of the International Journal of Jungian Studies (IJJS) and a member of the Advisory Board for the journal Spring and lectures widely (www.lukehockley.com). Nadi Fadina is a media entrepreneur and a managing partner in an international film fund. She is involved in a variety of arts and media related projects both in profit and non profit spheres. She teaches Film Business in the University of Bedfordshire however her academic interests outreach spheres of business and cover ideology, Russian fairytales, sexuality, politics, anthropology and cinema (www.nadi.fadina.com).

NGO Discourses in the Debate on Genetically Modified Crops Ksenia Gerasimova, 2017-07-20

The development and use of genetically modified organisms (GMOs) has been a contentious topic for the last three decades. While there have been a number of social science analyses of the issues, this is the first book to assess the role of Non Governmental Organizations (NGOs) in the debate at such a wide geographic scale. The various positions for and against GMOs, particularly with regard to transgenic crops, articulated by NGOs in the debate are dissected, classified and juxtaposed to corresponding campaigns. These are discussed in the context of key conceptual paradigms including nature fundamentalism and the organic movement, post colonialism, food sovereignty, anti globalisation, sustainability and feminism. The book also analyses how NGOs interpret the debate and the persuasive communication tactics they use This provides greater understanding of the complexity of negotiations in the debate and explains its specific features such as its global scope and difficulty in finding compromises The author assesses the long term interests of various participants and changes in perceptions of science and in public communication as a result Examples of major NGOs such as Greenpeace Oxfam and WWF are included but the author also provides new research into the role of NGOs in Russia The Truth about Camilla Gertrude Hall Brownell,1913 Myths of Greece and Rome. Narrated with Special Reference to Literature and Art H. A. Guerber,2023-09-18 In Myths of Greece and Rome H A Guerber intricately weaves together the rich tapestry of classical mythology offering readers an insightful exploration of the narratives that shaped ancient civilizations Written in an engaging and accessible style Guerber s work not only recounts the timeless stories of gods heroes and legendary figures but also provides critical commentary on their significance in literature and art The book situates these myths within their broader cultural context elucidating their impact on subsequent artistic expressions and philosophical thought making it a pivotal reference for understanding the genesis of Western literary traditions H A Guerber a scholar well versed in the classics drew inspiration from her profound appreciation for mythological narratives and their resonance through the ages Her background in education and her extensive travels across Europe enriched her understanding and interpretation of these ancient tales allowing her to present them in a manner that resonates with both scholarly audiences and general readers Guerber s passion for the subject is palpable as she seeks to bridge the gap between ancient myths and contemporary understanding making them relevant for posterity This book is highly recommended for anyone interested in the foundational stories of Western culture or the intersections of mythology art and literature Guerber s narrative is both enlightening and engaging making it an essential addition to the library of students educators and enthusiasts of classical studies Experience the vibrant legends of Greece and Rome through the insightful lens of H A Guerber and discover their enduring influence on our world today House documents ,1892 Bulfinch's Mythology Thomas Bulfinch,1913
