Fierce Attachments Vivian Gornick, 1987 The story of the author's lifelong battle with her mother for independence

New York Magazine, 1987-11-30 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea

Mothers and Daughters Andrea O'Reilly, Sharon Abbey, 2000 In 1976 Adrienne Rich wrote in Of Woman Born Motherhood as Experience and Institution that the cathexis between mother and daughter_essential distorted misused_ is the great unwritten story O In the quarter century since Rich wrote those words the topic of mothers and daughters has emerged as a salient issue in feminist scholarship Using women's writing film feminist theory and personal experience contributors to Mothers and Daughters explore how the mother daughter relationship is represented and experienced as a site of empowerment This volume will offer readers an important and welcome chapter in the story of the complex relationship that is a part of nearly every woman's life

You're Wearing That? Deborah Tannen, 2006-01-24 Deborah Tannen's 1 New York Times bestseller You Just Don't Understand revolutionized communication between women and men Now in her most provocative and engaging book to date she takes on what is potentially the most fraught and passionate connection of women's lives the mother daughter relationship It was Tannen who first showed us that men and women speak different languages Mothers and daughters speak the same language but still often misunderstand each other as they struggle to find the right balance between closeness and independence Both mothers and daughters want to be seen for who they are but tend to see the other as falling short of who she should be Each overestimates the other's power and underestimates her own Why do daughters complain that their mothers always criticize while mothers feel hurt that their daughters shut them out Why do mothers and daughters critique each other on the Big Three hair clothes and weight while longing for approval and understanding And why do they scrutinize each other for reflections of themselves Deborah Tannen answers these and many other questions as she explains why a remark that would be harmless coming from anyone else can cause an explosion when it comes from your mother or your daughter She examines every aspect of this complex dynamic from the dark side that can shadow a woman throughout her life to the new technologies like e mail and instant messaging that are transforming mother daughter communication Most important she helps mothers and daughters understand each other the key to improving their relationship With groundbreaking insights pitch perfect dialogues and deeply moving memories of her own mother Tannen untangles the knots daughters and mothers can get tied up in Readers will appreciate Tannen's humor as they see themselves on every page and come away with real hope for breaking down barriers and opening new lines of communication Eye opening and heartfelt You're Wearing That illuminates and enriches one of the most important relationships in our lives Tannen analyzes and decodes scores of conversations between moms and daughters These exchanges are so real they can make you squirm as you relive the last fraught conversation you had with your own mother or daughter But Tannen doesn't just point out the pitfalls of the mother daughter relationship she also provides guidance for changing the conversations or the way that we feel about the conversations before they degenerate into what Tannen calls a mutually aggravating spiral a self-perpetuating cycle of escalating responses that become provocations The San Francisco Chronicle

The Fiction of Autobiography Micaela Maftai, 2013-07-04 Writing autobiography is a complicated often fraught activity for both writer and reader We can find many recent examples of the way such writing calls into question the author's truthfulness or their authority to present as definitive their version of a particular event or portion of their lives Drawing upon a wide range of late twentieth and early twenty-first century autobiographical writing The Fiction of Autobiography examines key aspects of autobiography from the interrelated perspectives of author reader critic and scholar to reconsider how we view this form of writing and its relationship to the way we understand and construct identity Maftai considers recent cases and texts such as Didion's The Year of Magical Thinking and Frey's A Million Little Pieces alongside older texts such as Proust's In Search of Lost Time Nabokov's Invitation to a Beheading and Stein's The Autobiography of Alice B. Toklas In part this is to emphasize that key issues reappear and arise over decades and centuries and that texts distanced by time can speak to each other thoughtfully and poignantly

How to Know a Person David Brooks, 2015-10-21 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER A practical heartfelt guide to the art of truly knowing another person and fostering deeper connections at home at work and throughout our lives from the author of The Road to Character and The Second Mountain More than a guide to better conversations it's a blueprint for a more connected and humane way of living It's a must-read for anyone looking to deepen their relationships and broaden their perspectives Bill Gates GatesNotes Summer Reading Pick As David Brooks observes There is one skill that lies at the heart of any healthy person family school community organization or society the ability to see someone else deeply and make them feel seen to accurately know another person to let them feel valued heard and understood And yet all around are people who feel invisible unseen misunderstood In How to Know a Person Brooks sets out to help us do better posing essential questions If you want to know a person what kind of attention should you cast on them What kind of conversations should you have What parts of a person's story should you pay attention to Driven by his trademark sense of curiosity and determination to grow as a person Brooks draws from the fields of psychology and neuroscience and the worlds of theater philosophy history and education to present a welcoming hopeful integrated approach to human connection How to Know a Person helps readers become more understanding and considerate toward others and to find the joy that comes from being seen Along the way it offers a possible remedy for a society that is riven by fragmentation hostility and misperception The act of seeing another person Brooks argues is profoundly creative How can we look somebody in the eye and see something large in them and in turn see something larger in ourselves How to

Know a Person is for anyone searching for connection and yearning to be understood Bookforum ,2005 When Memory Speaks Jill Ker Conway,2011-06-08 Jill Ker Conway one of our most admired autobiographers author of The Road from Coorain and True North looks astutely and with feeling into the modern memoir the forms and styles it assumes and the strikingly different ways in which men and women respectively tend to understand and present their lives In a narrative rich with evocations of memoirists over the centuries from Jean Jacques Rousseau and George Sand to W E B Du Bois Virginia Woolf Frank McCourt and Katharine Graham the author suggests why it is that we are so drawn to the reading of autobiography and she illuminates the cultural assumptions behind the ways in which we talk about ourselves Conway traces the narrative patterns typically found in autobiographies by men to the tale of the classical Greek hero and his epic journey of adventure She shows how this configuration evolved in memoirs into the passionate romantic struggling against the conventions of society into the frontier hero battling the wilderness into self made men overcoming economic obstacles to create an invention or a fortune or more recently into a quest for meaning for an understandable past for an ethnic identity In contrast she sees the designs that women commonly employ for their memoirs as evolving from the writings of the mystics such as Dame Julian of Norwich or St Teresa of Avila about their relationship with an all powerful God As against the male autobiographer s expectation of power over his fate we see the woman memoirist again and again believing that she lacks command of her destiny and tending to censor her own story Throughout Conway underlines the memoir s magic quality of allowing us to enter another human being s life and mind and how this experience enlarges and instructs our own lives

The Aliens Henry Francis Keenan,1886 Mother Puzzles Mickey Pearlman,1989-12-11 Despite extraordinary attention within the past five years by novelists playwrights and critics the subject of mothers and daughters and motherhood and daughterhood has remained complicated and compelling Mother Puzzles is a unique collection that examines how women who write have dealt with those relationships Pearlman notes in her introduction that missing mothers mothers who are physically present but emotionally absent are often found in works by women The question this collection addresses is why the mother as currently portrayed in American literature by women has moved from sainted marginality as icon to vicious caricature as destroyer to the puzzling figure that emerges here and why these works are often also about incest and sexual abuse Among the authors studied are Sue Miller Tillie Olsen Marilyn French Gail Godwin Mary Gordon Marsha Norman and Susan Fromberg Schaeffer Feminist literary psychological analyses of Housekeeping Lovingkindness Fierce Attachments Men and Angels night Mother The Snow Queen and The Good Mother are included These essays will interest scholars in American literature readers of contemporary fiction and those interested in Women s Studies Earth-bound Dorothy Macardle,1924 The Best British Short Stories of ... Edward Joseph O'Brien,John Cournos,1925 New York ,1987-11 The Nation ,2004 The Pacific Unitarian ,1918 The Best British Short Stories of ... ,1925 Chinese Stories Sir Robert Kennaway Douglas,1893 Writing Our Lives Steven J.
