Smith takes Freud s work on the death drive and compares it with other philosophies of death Pascal Heidegger and Derrida

in particular He also applies it in a new way to literature and art to Shakespeare Rothko and Katharina Fritsch among others He asks whether artworks are dead or alive if artistic creativity isn't actually a form of destruction and whether our ability to be seduced by fine words means we don't put our selves at risk of death In doing so he proposes a new theory of aesthetics in which artworks and literary texts have a death drive of their own not least by their defining ability to turn away from all that is real and where the effects of the death drive mean that we are constantly living in imaginary rhetorical or artistic worlds The book also provides a valuable introduction to the rich tradition of work on the death drive since Freud

Key Features
