German Reunification:

German Reunification Frédéric Bozo, Andreas Rödder, Mary Elise Sarotte, 2016-08-05 This book provides a multinational history of German reunification based on empirical work by leading scholars The reunification of Germany in 1989-90 was one of the most unexpected and momentous events of the twentieth century Embedded within the wider process of the end of the Cold War it contributed decisively to the dramatic changes that followed the end of the division of Europe the collapse of the Warsaw Pact the origins of NATO's eastward expansion and not least the creation of the European Union Based on the wealth of evidence that has become available from many countries involved and relying on the most recent historiography this collection takes into account the complex interaction of multinational processes that were instrumental in shaping German reunification in the pivotal years 1989-90 The volume brings together renowned international scholars whose recent works based on their research in multiple languages and sources have contributed significantly to the history of the end of the Cold War and of German reunification The resulting volume represents an important contribution to our knowledge and understanding of a significant chapter in recent history This book will be of much interest to students of German politics Cold war history international and multinational history and IR in general Germany Reunified Peter Maurice Daly, 1997 No other Western European nation has experienced such a division and reunification of its peoples and lands within a single span of life Five years after unification we ask ourselves what has been accomplished what challenges remain what problems have arisen It is also now fifty years since Germans lived within one set of boundaries To what extent have Germans come to terms with their past both Nazi and communist How do Europeans and North Americans view the newly unified Germany The purpose of this volume is to explore some of the social political economic ethical and cultural results of unification maintaining a wider historical perspective hence the reference to fifty years as well as five years

The Way towards Reunification - A Revolution in Germany? Frederik Boesch, 2006-02-10 Seminar paper from the year 2004 in the subject History of Europe Newer History European Unification grade 1-3 International University Bremen course Social German History language English abstract The Way towards Reunification A Revolution in Germany If you had asked a person on the street 16 years ago how reasonable he thought reunification of Western and Eastern Germany was he would have probably laughed at you However only one year later at the end of 1989 reunification was all of the sudden back on the agenda and discussed everywhere around the world Within less than a year the GDR went through its most severe crisis from which it would never recover Political scientists and historians would not have imagined that the GDR could dissolve so easily and so quickly Thousands of citizens were fleeing to the West and literally hundreds of thousands were protesting in the streets of Leipzig and Berlin The regime was internally divided and had no power to withstand the forces that were bringing its end About a decade and a half later historians are still discussing the events that led to the dissolution of the GDR regime and are divided about the question whether it can be classified as a revolution or not In my essay I will start out by looking at the weaknesses that the GDR regime had There had to be a precondition that made the decline of East Germany possible and I will investigate that Afterwards I will take a look at three different phases that the upheaval in 1989 90 had namely the flight the mass protests and the Round Table talks At the end of the paper I will discuss arguments in favour and against the notion that the GDR upheaval was a revolution and conclude with my own evaluation Most of this essay is based on the book Dissolution by Charles S Mayer 1997 and a chapter from the book The Rush to German Unity written by Konrad H Jarausch 1994 Please note that I will most of the time refer to an upheaval when I describe the events in the GDR in 1989 90 I will try to avoid the term revolution in order to not take any position in favour of or against one historical camp or the other

Bromley, 2017-04-07 In 1945 German families with more than 100 hectares 247 acres of land were forced from their homes in the eastern sector by the Soviets now in control of that area These families were brutally evicted from their property and had their land expropriated In the next 45 years the GDR government would come to control all of the agricultural land At reunification in 1990 the earlier abuse of these farmers was compounded when the German government would not restore any of this expropriated land to these families The German government falsely accused the Soviet Union of insisting on non restitution as a condition of reunification Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev unequivocally denies this claim and insists that land issues are a German problem to resolve The temporary land trust agency established by the German government in 1990 to dispose of land it inherited from the GDR continues to exist After 25 years this agency still holds almost 20 percent of this expropriated land Its agents most of whom were reared in GDR decide who may or may not lease land the conditions of the lease and if and when a farmer may buy land circumstances that remain deeply controversial Joyce Bromley draws on extensive field research and previously untapped sources to explore the reliability of the government s version of these important events Is the German government once again without shame discriminating against a group of its own citizens
