Human Insecurity David Roberts, 2008-05-15 Human Insecurity is concerned with our refusal to confront the millions of avoidable deaths of women and children each year Those missing millions are rarely the subject of conventional security studies yet such avoidable deaths are a vital part of the notion of security more broadly understood The book argues that such deaths are caused by the man made structures of neoliberalism and andrarchy and argues that the debate on human security can be reinvigorated by looking at the unarmed civilian role in causing the deaths of millions of innocent people from child deaths from preventable disease to honour killings David Roberts claims that by facing up to this relationship between social structures and massive avoidable human suffering we can create another system less prone to global violence This book is a powerful intervention in the debate on human security and an urgent call to face up to our responsibilities to the millions killed needlessly each year Hyperconflict James Mittelman, 2010-01-08 This book addresses two questions that are crucial to the human condition in the twenty first century does globalization promote security or fuel insecurity And what are the implications for world order Coming to grips with these matters requires building a bridge between the geoeconomics and geopolitics of globalization one that extends to the geostrategic realm Yet few analysts have sought to span this gulf Filling the void Mittelman identifies systemic drivers of global security and insecurity and demonstrates how the intense interaction between them heightens insecurity at a world level The emergent confluence he labels hyperconflict a structure characterized by a reorganization of political violence a growing climate of fear and increasing instability at a world level Ultimately his assessment offers an early warning to enable prevention of a gathering storm of hyperconflict and the establishment of enduring peace

Rethinking Insecurity, War and Violence Damian Grenfell, Paul James, 2008-07-25 Rethinking Insecurity

War and Violence Beyond Savage Globalization is a collection of essays by scholars intent on rethinking the mainstream security paradigms Overall this collection is intended to provide a broad and systematic analysis of the long term sources of political military and cultural insecurity from the local to the global The book provides a stronger basis for understanding the causes of conflict and violence in the world today one that adds a different dimension to the dominant focus on finding proximate causes and making quick responses Too often the arenas of violence have been represented as if they have been triggered by reassertions of traditional and tribal forms of identity primordial and irrational assertions of politics Such ideas about the sources of insecurity have become entrenched in a wide variety of media sources and have framed both government policies and academic arguments Rather than treating the sources of insecurity as a retreat from modernity this book complicates the patterns of global insecurity to a degree that takes the debates simply beyond assumptions that we are witnessing a savage return to a bloody and tribalized world It will be of particular interest to students and scholars of international relations security studies gender studies and globalization studies

Migration from Nigeria and the Future of Global Security Frank Aragbonfoh Abumere, John Sodiq Sanni, 2022-07-22 This book explores the possible actual potential and imagined future security threats migration from Nigeria could pose to Europe the United States of America Canada and to some extent Australia The negative consequences of terrorism resource curse extreme poverty bad governance and illiteracy are highly likely to compound the already existing migration both legal and illegal migration from Nigeria to Europe Given the current nationalist and populist tendencies in the United States of America and many parts of Europe which have amplified the securitization of migration the authors argue that the continuous high influx of legal and illegal migrants from Africa is a potential global security case

Cities at War Mary Kaldor, Saskia Sassen, 2020-03-31 Warfare in the twenty first century goes well beyond conventional armies and nation states In a world of diffuse conflicts taking place across sprawling cities war has become fragmented and uneven to match its settings Yet the analysis of failed states civil war and state building rarely considers the city rather than the country as the terrain of battle In Cities at War Mary Kaldor and Saskia Sassen assemble an international team of scholars to examine cities as sites of contemporary warfare and insecurity Reflecting Kaldor's expertise on security cultures and Sassen's perspective on cities and their geographies they develop new insight into how cities and their residents encounter instability and conflict as well as the ways in which urban forms provide possibilities for countering violence Through a series of case studies of cities including Baghdad Bogot Ciudad Juarez Kabul and Karachi the book reveals the unequal distribution of insecurity as well as how urban capabilities might offer resistance and hope Through analyses of how contemporary forms of identity inequality and segregation interact with the built environment Cities at War explains why and how political violence has become increasingly urbanized It also points toward the capacity of the city to shape a different kind of urban subjectivity that can serve as a foundation for a more peaceful and equitable future

Collective Insecurity Ikechi Mgbeoji, 2011-11-01 Africa's notorious civil wars and seemingly endless conflicts constitute one of the most intractable threats to global peace and security in the post Cold War era This book provides both a superb analysis of the historical dysfunction of the post colonial African state generally and more specifically a probing critique of the crisis that resulted in the tragic collapse of Liberia Using a historical deconstruction and reconstruction of the theories and practice of international law and politics Ikechi Mgbeoji ultimately shows that blame for this endless cycle of violence must be laid at the feet of both the Western powers and African states themselves He further posits that three measures a reconstructed regime of African statehood legitimate governance and reform of the United Nations Security Council are imperatives for the creation of a stable African polity In the post 9 11 era this holistic and multilateral approach to collective security remains the world's best route to peace and socio political stability Collective Insecurity is a vital addition to the study of international law and will be of interest to students and practitioners of international law and international relations and those with an interest in security studies politics and African studies

Interdependent Yet Intolerant Robert Mandel, 2021 Analyzing twelve recent case studies of violence between native citizens and foreign migrants Mandel analyzes the conditions inflaming hate based violence and provides policy recommendations for managing it in an interdependent globalizing world

Faith's Knowledge Paul Tyson, 2013-05-02 Can we know truth even though certain proof is unattainable Can we be known by Truth Is there a relationship between belief and truth and if so what is the nature of that relationship Do we need to have faith in reason and in real meaning to be able to reason towards truth These are the sorts of questions this book seeks to address In Faith's Knowledge Paul Tyson argues that all knowledge that aims at truth is always the knowledge of faith If this is the case then against our modernist cultural assumptions about knowledge truth cannot be had by proof Yet if this is true then mere information and simply objective facts do not for us as knowers exist Knowledge is always embedded in belief and knowledge and belief is always expressed in relationships histories narratives shared meanings and power Hence a theological sociology of knowledge emerges out of these explorations in thinking about knowledge as a function of
