Scientific Inquiry Cycle: Review

Science helps communities solve problems by applying knowledge and inventing things. Often "solved" with a local "fix" such as water recycling or waste management, using science to make or improve solutions can have a positive impact. Understanding the problem fully, including its causes and effects, is the first step in finding an effective solution.

Designing solutions becomes considering various constraints, such as budget, time, and safety concerns. Community members have a part of a solution right from the beginning, and it is important to weigh their needs and concerns. For students, creating solutions for a issue that they affect in real and safe ways, can influence the effectiveness of the solution.

After identifying a solution, determining how it works, what constraints affected it, and any compromises that have already been or should involve on the way. Communication, using digital media, and reflecting on the results of the solution are important steps. The process of sharing, testing, and evaluating locally encourages responsible decision-making and helps communities thrive.

6A. Mark the best answer for each question.

1. What is the first important step when working on a local problem?
- a. Designing a solution
 - b. Spreading the most expensive materials
 - c. Spreading safety concerns
 - d. Understanding the problem fully
2. What does determining constraints in a solution help with?
- a. Finding the problem of the solution
 - b. Evaluating the problem of the solution and safety
 - c. Showing how to solve the problem
 - d. Determining what the solution has to solve
3. Which is an example of a constraint?
- a. Finding a solution with no tools
 - b. Working without any tools
 - c. The time it takes to finish the project
 - d. Using unlimited materials
4. Why is it important to understand the problem fully?
- a. To avoid not being in the solution
 - b. To make the solution
 - c. To finish the problem by comparing
 - d. To avoid choosing a solution

6B. Mark if the statement is True (T) or False (F).

1. A solution made after one failed attempt is always better than the first one.

2. A solution that is not tested is always better than one that is tested.

3. A solution that is not tested is always better than one that is tested.

4. A solution that is not tested is always better than one that is tested.

Answer for each question.

1. How does identifying a solution help in the scientific process?

2. Why must this be considered in designing a solution?

3. What might happen when creating a solution that is not tested?

4. How does identifying a solution help in the scientific process?

5. Why are constraints important in scientific understanding?
