Exploring the Unknown: Human spaceflight, 1995     Exploring the Moon and Mars, 1991     Exploring the Unknown, Volume VII, NASA SP-2008-4407, 2008, *, 2009     Space Science Mark Thompson, 2020-04-09     What Does Space Exploration Do for Us? Neil Morris, 2011-06-10 How do we know Earth isn't flat? What are the benefits of space exploration and is it good value? How and why do scientists study the Universe? This series answers questions like these while tackling key curriculum topics relating to Earth, Space and the Universe. The series encourages critical thinking to support the modern science curriculum and includes features on space science in the home and what it means for us, showing the relevance of space science to our everyday lives.

Exploring Space Travel Laura Hamilton Waxman, 2017-08-01 How long does it take to get into outer space? About nine minutes! Powerful vehicles carry people beyond Earth's atmosphere in a short time. But astronauts train for years before they go on missions. In this book you'll learn about what it's like to be an astronaut in space. As part of the Searchlight Books™ collection, this series explores outer space and sheds light on the question: What's Amazing about Space? Fantastic photos, kid-friendly explanations of science concepts, and useful diagrams will help you discover the answers.

The Benefits of Spaceflight and Space Exploration Jason Porterfield, 2017-07-15 For millennia, humanity has looked to the stars with wonder and longing. The dream of taking flight and exploring the solar system was realized in the 1950s when the first satellites and manned orbital missions were launched. Humans continue to send scientific instruments, telescopes, and astronauts into space in an effort to learn more about the universe and about Earth. This title will explain the practical and scientific benefits of space exploration, from tracking climate change to global cooperation through shared research.

Harper's Magazine, 1929     Science for Exploring Outer Space Mark Thompson, 2019-05-09 Imagine journeying millions of kilometres into deep space. But to really do that, you'll need to apply a fair bit of science. This book has twelve scientific investigations to help you understand why the speed of light matters, how to communicate in binary, and how dust can turn into a planet. Discover a Martian volcano and what happens when meteorites smash into Earth or the Moon, and lots, lots more. Space Science is the ultimate series for the astronomers and astronauts of the future. It delves into loads of intriguing how, what, and why facts about the night sky. The step-by-step instructions are easy to follow and use readily available materials that won't break the bank. Authored by Mark Thompson, a brilliant astronomer and television and radio presenter who brings a fresh approach to the exploration and understanding of the Solar System and beyond. This book is part of the Space Science series, which covers key areas of the science curriculum, such as forces, materials, and matter, light, rocks, chemical reactions, recycling, and waste, magnets, solar power, gravity, distance, maps, and constellations. For readers aged 9.
