

Role of a librarian

Positions and duties

Specific duties vary depending on the size and type of library. Most librarians spend their time working in one of the following areas of a library:

- Archivists can be specialized librarians who deal with archival materials, such as manuscripts, documents and records, though this varies from country to country, and there are other routes to the archival profession.
- Collection development or acquisitions librarians monitor the selection of books and electronic resources.
- Electronic resources librarians manage the databases that libraries license from third-party vendors.
- School librarians work in school libraries and perform duties as teachers, information technology specialists, and advocates for literacy.
